

Conversion to Adjustable Life Legend

Wisconsin Public Employers Group Life Insurance

Conversion information

For insured employees who:

- Are terminating employment
- or
- Have Spouse and Dependent coverage and:
 - Are turning age 70
 - Have a spouse/domestic partner or dependent child who is losing eligibility status

What is conversion of group life insurance?

When a person's group term life insurance is terminating, Wisconsin law requires that the insured be offered an opportunity to replace some or all of the coverage with an individual policy issued by the insurance company. The policy can be of any kind that is currently offered by the insurance company except a term life insurance policy. Evidence of insurability is not required in order to convert your coverage.

If my employment terminates, when does my life insurance coverage end?

Your group life insurance will terminate on the earlier of the dates indicated:

1. The last day of the month following the month in which you separate from the service of your employer.
2. Thirty days after the expiration of an approved leave of absence if you are continuing to pay premiums during the leave. (For this purpose, leaves of absence generally cannot exceed 36 months.)

Earlier dates may apply if you are age 65 or older.

Exception: You may be able to keep your group life insurance coverage if you have 20 years of service, are at retirement age or are terminating due to disability. Contact your employer, the Department of Employee Trust Funds or Minnesota Life for more information.

What about temporary layoffs or leaves of absence?

You may not convert unless your employment formally terminates. Otherwise, you are eligible to keep your group insurance in force during layoffs or approved leaves of absence by continuing to pay your group premiums. This option is less expensive than conversion.

What if I am totally disabled?

If you are insured under the Wisconsin Public Employers Group Life Insurance Program, are under age 70 and became totally disabled while actively at work or on an approved leave of absence, contact your employer to see if you are eligible to continue your coverage at no cost. See your insurance brochure (ET-2101) for details.

May I convert if I was insured only a short time?

If you were insured under this plan for the entire six-month period prior to the date your coverage ended, you may convert your insurance. If your employer began offering this plan less than six months before your coverage ends, you may still convert your insurance, as well as your spouse and dependent insurance, if you were employed by your employer for at least six months prior to termination of employment and you became insured as soon as you were eligible.

When does insurance coverage for my spouse/ domestic partner and dependent children end?

If your employment terminates, coverage for your spouse/domestic partner and dependent children terminates at the end of the next month. Spouse and Dependent coverage also terminates when the active employee reaches age 70, or 90 days after the active employee's death. Coverage for dependent children terminates at the end of the month in which the child marries or the end of the calendar year in which the child turns 19 (age 25 if a full-time student). If you divorce or your domestic partnership is terminated, coverage for your spouse/domestic partner ends on the date the divorce decree is entered or on the effective date of termination of domestic partnership as determined by the Department of Employee Trust Funds. In all of these cases, coverage can be converted using this application if the group insurance was in effect for at least six months before it terminated.

How much will it cost?

Your premiums will be at Minnesota Life's regular rates in use at the time your new policy is issued, depending on your age at the time you convert. Use the rates shown in this brochure to determine your initial premium. Rates are subject to change.

How do I determine my new premium?

1. Determine your issue age. The effective date of your new policy will usually be 31 days from the date your group coverage terminates. Your issue age is your current age if, on the effective date of your new policy, more than six months remain until your next birthday. Otherwise, it is the age you will be on your next birthday.
2. Find the annual premium rate per $1,000 for your issue age in the rate table.

3. Multiply the rate by the number if 1000 units of insurance you are requesting. Example: If $20,000 is the amount you wish to convert, then the number of $1,000 units is 20. Therefore multiply 20 by the rate you found in step 2.
4. Add the annual policy charge of $75.00.

Use the example provided to help determine your premium.

Can I pay more often than once a year?

You may make premium payments quarterly or semiannually if each payment is at least $10. To determine a semiannual premium, divide your annual premium by two and add $1. To determine a quarterly premium, divide the annual premium by four and add $1. See the example provided.

Here's an example to help you determine your new premium. Please complete the column below.

Line	Example	You
1. Birth date	September 6, 1963	_____
2. Last day of coverage	April 30, 2008	_____
3. Effective date of new policy (the first of the month following 31 days after line 2)	June 1, 2008	_____
4. Actual age on effective date of new policy	44	_____
5. Are there more than six months from the effective date (line 3) of your new policy until your next birthday? (Yes or No)	No	_____
6. Issue age on effective date of new policy. If 'Yes' on line 5, your issue age equals your actual age on line 4; if 'No,' your issue age is the age you will be on your next birthday.	45	_____
7. Amount of new insurance	$20,000	_____
8. Premium rate per $1,000 for age on line 6	$22.07	_____
9. Amount times rate divided by 1,000 = (line 7 times line 8 divided by 1,000)	$441.40	_____
10. Annual policy charge = $75.00	$75.00	_____
11. Annual premium = (line 9 plus line 10)	$516.40	_____

How to determine premium payment amount for semiannual or quarterly payments:

Semiannual premium = Annual premium (line 11) divided by 2 plus $1	$259.20	_____
Quarterly premium = Annual premium (line 11) divided by 4 plus $1	$130.10	_____

What is the deadline for conversion?

The application provided, together with the first premium payment, must be received by Minnesota Life Insurance Company before the end of your "conversion period."

The conversion period is the 31-day period following the date your group coverage terminates. If you die during the conversion period, your beneficiary will receive the full amount of your group insurance even if you did not apply to convert your coverage. Any premium you paid for conversion will be refunded.

What kind of policy will be issued?

You will be issued an Adjustable Life Legend individual policy with a whole life plan of insurance.

How do I convert?

Complete the enrollment form attached. Use your beneficiary's full name (no initials) and show the relationship of each beneficiary to you (for example, wife). Date and sign the enrollment form using your full name (no initials) and send to Minnesota Life along with your first premium. If you want to convert your Spouse and Dependent coverage, complete a separate enrollment form for each individual. Sign the enrollment form as "Employee," and have your spouse/domestic partner or dependent child (if legally old enough to sign) sign as "Person Converting."

Note: Be sure to discuss your insurance benefit options with your employer, the Department of Employee Trust Funds or Minnesota Life upon termination of employment to make sure conversion is the most appropriate option for you.
