Need Care Fast? Know Your Options

When you need medical care, it's important to know where to turn. See etf.wi.gov/video/get-medical-care-when-you-need-it-fast for a video that explains your options, including what makes sense for you and your wallet. Many health plans also offer a 24-hour nurseline. A nurseline may be useful to determine what type of care is most appropriate for your symptoms.

- Board approved extending the contract for an additional seven (7) years with one, three-year extension starting January 1, 2023
- DAISI includes medical, pharmacy, and dental claims data, wellness data, and member demographic and enrollment data provided by ETF

Why Recommend a New Tool?

Memo Pages 2-5

Item 6 – IBM Benefits Mentor Proposal – November 18, 2020

Concerns with Alex

Plan Design Recommendation

 ALEX almost universally recommends the HDHP as the most financially advantageous plan for members

Accuracy of Health Care Projections

- ALEX relies on members to accurately estimate their anticipated health care utilization for the next year
- Does not use the member's actual health costs as a basis

Concerns with Alex

Style

 Feedback from members and employers suggests that many members don't appreciate the tool's light-hearted style and overall tone

Cost

- ETF's cost for ALEX is currently $360,000 annually
- The UW incurs an additional $225,000 annually for its version of ALEX

Memo Page 2-3 Item 6 – IBM Benefits Mentor Proposal – November 18, 2020

IBM's Benefits Mentor

- ETF is recommending the Board amend its contract with IBM Watson Health to include the Benefits Mentor education tool
- Benefits Mentor will provide more appropriate plan recommendations and an improved customer experience over ALEX

IBM's Benefits Mentor – Plan Recommendations

Actual Healthcare Utilization Data

- Benefits Mentor will be integrated with DAISI
- Members can modify estimates to reflect future needs
- Uses national average data for new or future members

Plan Recommendation Methodologies

- Lowest total cost at end of year
- Lowest doctor and pharmacy costs
- Lowest premium

Memo Page 3-4 Item 6 – IBM Benefits Mentor Proposal – November 18, 2020

IBM Benefits Mentor – User Experience

Watson's Artificial Intelligence Technology

- Embedded in digital chat experience
- Users ask questions in natural language
- Can address some health literacy issues

Plan Options Display

 Clear side-by-side comparisons (See Memo Attachment) Style

- User-friendly and intuitive
- Customizable to reflect ETF language

Informational Item Only

Background

Memo Page 1

Key Audit Activities

ETF contracted with Segal Consulting to conduct audit for January 1, 2017 – December 31, 2019

- Wellness incentive processing and payments
- Performance metric calculations

Wellness Incentive Processing and Payment

Memo Page 1

Audit Findings

Random sample of 150 payments in 2019 were processed and payed at 100% accuracy.

Targeted sample of 100 payments from 2017 and 2018:

- 10 overpayments
- 1 tax processing error

10 Overpayments

2 duplicate payments:

- Caused by system issue where members were inadvertently issued a second gift card.
- StayWell credited ETF for these and will be auditing all payments.

8 overpayments related to eligibility coverage discrepancies

- StayWell attests to participants being eligible based on information known at time of incentive being issued.
- Discrepancies possibly due to delays in system updates from employer, ETF or StayWell.
- Starting in 2020, StayWell has automated daily eligibility file loading process.

Tax Processing Error

Segal identified one tax processing issue. Upon further review, taxes were processed correctly, and the error was removed.

Performance Metrics

Memo Page 2

Performance Metrics Reviewed

Health	Helpline survey	Lifestyle	Participant
assessment		management	onsite screening
portal survey		survey	survey
Disease management health coaching survey	Telephone response time	First call resolution	Call abandonment rate

22 instances out of ~776 had a variance greater than 1%

In Conclusion

Audit findings present a few areas for improvement.

ETF does not believe any of the findings are an obstacle to continuing to work with StayWell.

Wellness Program: Options for Possibly Extending the StayWell Contract and Issuing an RFP Item 7B – Group Insurance Board

Molly Heisterkamp, Disease Management & Wellness Program Manager Office of Strategic Health Policy

ETF recommends the Board approve extending the StayWell contract two additional years, through December 31, 2023

Background

Memo Pages 1 – 2

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

Background: Well Wisconsin

Essential component of ETF's approach to addressing the Healthcare Triple Aim

Drives member engagement in their own health before and/or between medical encounters

Includes: screenings, health assessment, coaching, education, challenges and more

Contract with StayWell

Contract began in 2017

Current extension ends December 31, 2021

WebMD acquired StayWell in 2020

- Well Wisconsin will transition to WebMD services in January 2021
- New member portal and products will be available in the current rate structure with no cost increases

Program Participation

Participation rates have increased by over 70% since StayWell began program administration in 2017

Largest increase was seen in year one and has since leveled off

Expecting 2020 participation rates to be lower due to COVID-19 pandemic

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

Program Health Outcomes

Memo Pages 2 - 3

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

DAISI: Relative Risk and Healthcare Utilization

- Participants in Well Wisconsin have a lower rate of increased relative risk scores compared to those who do not participate
 - 9.4% lower for actives
 - 29.8% lower for retirees
 - 19% lower for all
- Participants also show better healthcare utilization rates

StayWell: Assessment Results

- Results have remained relatively flat for participants from 2017 through 2019, except for those who participate in health coaching
 - 10.2% improvement between 2017 2018
 - 5.9% improvement between 2018 2019

Quality and Satisfaction

Memo Page 3

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

Survey Results

Participants continue to be satisfied with most program services and resources

Survey results continue to show a higher than 90% satisfaction rate for most services

There is a slight dip in overall satisfaction rates for the health assessment and portal for 2020 compared to prior years

ETF is performing member focus groups to identify areas of opportunity

Finances

Memo Page 4

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

Program Costs

- Program is funded via health insurance premiums; $13.50/month per contract in 2020
- WebMD is holding 2020 costs flat through extension; savings of $813,000 over three years
- WebMD offering a credit of $50,000 to cover costs with IBM for file layout changes

Cost Savings

- DAISI can compare expected allowed amount to actual costs retrospectively from 2016 through 2019
 - Active members:
 - Participants saved $1,738
 - Non-participants saved $1,454
 - Retired members:
 - Participants lost $788
 - Non-participants lost $3,434

Return-on-Investment (ROI)

- Planned for 2021 to understand direct connection between program and its impact on costs and healthcare utilization
- ETF staff interpreting health care regulations related to data sharing and updating agreements

Contract Options

Item 7B: StayWell Contract Extension – November 18, 2020

- Extend contract for one year, through 2022 release RFP for program year 2023
 - ETF/Board could learn about other service providers and could implement in 2023
 - Services for participants could be interrupted in 2023, after going through one in 2020 and 2021
 - Trending capabilities in DAISI interrupted after two years of data with WebMD
 - RFP would be released prior to completion of ROI analysis

Option 2 (Recommended)

- Extend contract for two years, through 2023
 - Three years of services/data trending with WebMD
 - Could complete ROI analysis prior to releasing an RFP
 - This option goes beyond the original end date of all contract renewals

Option 3

- Do not extend contract and release RFP for program year 2022
 - Tight turnaround time; would impact other staff projects
 - Seeing no major issues with StayWell/WebMD's administration of the program and minimal benefit of this option, ETF staff do not recommend this

ETF recommends the Board approve extending the StayWell contract two additional years, through December 31, 2023
