Correspondence Memorandum

Date: July 30, 2025
To: Group Insurance Board
From: Peter Rank, Chief Legal Counsel
Office of Legal Services
Subject: Navitus Legal Case Update

This memo is for informational purposes only. No Board action is required.

This memo is to notify the Board that ETF has received notification from Navitus of 16 lawsuits in which Navitus is a named co-defendant. This notification complies with their contracted obligation to provide notice to the Board. Each of these lawsuits is a proposed class action suit naming GoodRx, and a number (typically four) of the largest pharmacy benefit managers (PBMs) in the U.S., including Navitus.

Each lawsuit has unique plaintiffs, and the lawsuits have been filed in a number of different federal districts, including one filed in the Western District of Wisconsin. However, upon review of the complaints, the allegations in each of the suits are very similar. The lawsuits generally allege an anti-competitive agreement and price fixing between GoodRx and the largest PBMs in the U.S. related to reimbursement rates paid to independent pharmacies. Each of the lawsuits has been filed as a proposed class action complaint, with proposed classes defined as pharmacies in the United States reimbursed by the PBM Defendants for generic prescription medications pursuant to the GoodRx Integrated Services Program.

ETF brings this information to the Board now to ensure transparency into the pharmacy benefit program. These lawsuits remain in the early stages of litigation. ETF's Office of Legal Services continues to monitor the status of these suits, and at this time no ETF action beyond continued monitoring is recommended.

Staff will be at the Board meeting to answer any questions.
