

Position #004777 – IS Business Automation Specialist – Project Manager

Office of Enterprise Initiatives

Position Summary

On enterprise projects and initiatives, works under general supervision of the deputy director of the Office of Enterprise Initiatives (OEI). This position is responsible for the overall coordination of projects to successfully implement ETF and business unit strategic goals and initiatives. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to, management of project timeliness, quality of effort, monitoring scope, budget, resource assignment, and escalation of issues. Manages and leads project teams. Facilitates project meetings, elicits requirements and group collaboration, sets agendas, and provides project status reports as outlined within the communication plan. Responsible for developing/coordinating the project plan, monitoring vendor delivery efforts, timelines, and milestone completion efforts. Ensures continuous communication throughout the project with stakeholders. Manages all aspects of the project within the defined budget. Liaises with and updates progress to the portfolio owner (deputy director of OEI). Works closely with the sponsor and business representatives to ensure that the project meets the identified business requirements. Defines and manages user acceptances testing (UAT). Identifies user training needs and works with transition manager to coordinate user training. Integrates the transition management plan into the implementation work plan. Reports on transition management activities, deliverables, and status.

This is an advanced-level position performing difficult and complex work recommending policies, priorities, and/or solutions to IT and business-related issues. This person will provide expertise in multiple projects of moderate to difficult scope and complexity. This position identifies and resolves potential issues, with limited guidance from the portfolio owner and escalating issues, as needed, to sponsor and portfolio owner.

This position is a member of the Center of Excellence for Project Management and will work with other members to establish standards, procedures, and best practices for project management at the Department. This position is responsible for providing direction and mentorship to other Department project managers in the use of tools, techniques, metrics, and standards. In addition, this person will actively embrace the Department’s values and fully incorporate them into tasks, job performance, and service to customers.

Ensuring effective and efficient interactions with staff and management at all levels and areas of Department is an essential part of this position.
