Local Annuitant Health Program
Fact Sheet

The Local Annuitant Health Program (LAHP) is a program that provides group health insurance for retirees whose group health insurance with their former employer does not meet their needs or is not permanently available after retirement. These retirees must have retired from a local public employer who currently participates in the Wisconsin Retirement System.

Who is Eligible?

You are eligible if you retired from local government employer, and:

- you apply within 60 days of retirement (termination of employment) or when first eligible for and enrolled in Medicare,
- your previous local government employer participates in the WRS but not in the Wisconsin Public Employers Group Health Insurance Program (Local GHIP), and
- you choose to receive a monthly or lump-sum WRS annuity within 60 days of termination of employment, and

In the event of your death, your insured surviving spouse and dependents are eligible for LAHP if:

- they are insured under your retiree contract with LAHP, or
- they are insured by you as an active local government employee not insured under the Local GHIP.

Note: Individuals are not eligible to apply if they:

- are receiving only a § 40.65 duty disability or long-term disability insurance (LTDI) benefit, or
- were previously insured in LAHP and canceled that coverage.

When Should I Apply for LAHP Insurance?

You and your dependents may enroll if ETF receives both your insurance and annuity applications within 60 days after the date you terminate employment from a local government agency. Both applications can be submitted up to 90 days before you terminate employment, but your insurance application cannot be accepted before ETF receives your annuity application.

You can also enroll when you:

- turn age 65, and/or
- are first eligible for and enroll in Medicare Parts A and/or B.

You may apply for LAHP coverage as early as three months prior to your 65th birthday. Medicare will permit you to enroll in Medicare Part B three calendar months before you turn age 65, during the calendar month when you turn age 65, or during the three months immediately following the month in which you turn age 65.

You may change from single to family coverage when your spouse or other eligible dependent is first eligible for and enrolls in Medicare.

What Insurance Coverage is Available?

If eligible, you can enroll yourself and your dependents in the health plans offered through the Local GHIP. Dental and vision insurance is available with this program.
